SSI has given silver the prominence it deserves and put the spotlight on silver. Exhibitors and visitors expressed that this is silver's moment. Some other comments included: Silver is versatile; it is a trendsetter, it is a fashion statement. The future of silver is bright. Silver is here to stay. And, as Nishtashri Srinivasan, Director Emerald Jewels Industries India said: Silver is one the greatest industries to be in.

SSI had everything—the finest silver jewellery and artefacts, astounding craftsmanship, artistic masterpieces. And, serious business. Huge footfalls, serious buyers ranging from biggies like Kalyan Jewellers, Bhima, Thangamayil to small time retailers from little towns and villages.

There was a buying frenzy, with some exhibiting manufacturers saying they have huge orders for the next four to five months, while some exhibitors said their stock was exhausted in the first two days. Visitors from across the country said that they had a great experience - thrilled to be at SSI. They were astounded by a great variety at SSI—fantastic artisanship and marvellous, never seen before designs. There are confirmed reports that there were about 150 tons of Silver Jewelry/Articles orders placed with different Exhibitors.

Retailers said that they will now have to place a greater focus on silver which was not done before and present it to customers in an interesting manner. Leading corporate jewellers like Kalyan Jewellers said plans for exclusive silver jewellery showrooms are underway.

The vast range and each exhibitor's uniqueness in terms of category, pricing, quality, variety etc. made it difficult to pinpoint the top performing categories.

SSI has been a grand success – and exhibitors are demanding larger SSI. A few players who did not participate wish to participate in the forthcoming editions.

GES, the organizers of SSI, announced Two bigger and grander editions of SSI, alternating between Mumbai and Bangalore.

Thank You

Moving SSI to Mumbai has paid rich dividends. Great footfalls, serious buyers, firm orders placed. Exhibitors said huge orders have been received for the next 4-6 months.

Our homework on the spread of silver manufacturing centres, and reaching out to trade across India has resulted in a focused target audience visiting SSI.

The sales across jewellery and artefacts segments was phenomenal. The vast range and each exhibitors uniqueness in terms of category, pricing, quality, variety etc makes it difficult to pinpoint the top performing categories.

We are planning on making SSI bigger. We have announced that the editions of SSI will alternate between Bengaluru(December 15-17, 2023) and Mumbai (June 6-9, 2024). Currently there are no plans to take SSI to any other city.

The success of any endeavour depends on the collaborative efforts of all partners and associates. And , that is exactly the reason for the overwhelming success of Silver Show of India.

I thank IBJA and JAB, whose untiring efforts were responsible for the success of SSI.

A big thank you all the exhibitors and visitors, all the support services, media partners, the trade media for their unconditional support.

See you all at SSI at Bengaluru in December 2023.

Speaking at the inaugural ceremony of HJF 2023 said. Jayesh Ranjan, Principal Secretary, Government of Telangana. “Along with 13 other sectors which have shown remarkable growth, the Gems & Jewellery Industry has enhanced our government’s reputation for ease of doing business. Our recent efforts to build the sector have successfully convinced new players to invest in the State and who have begun manufacturing in Hyderabad.”

Venkata Sekhar, Industrial Promotion Officer & Director Gems and Jewellery, Government of Telangana said, “The Telangana Government has prioritized the gems and jewellery sector among the 14 sectors. In Maheshwaram, about 90 kms from Hyderabad, major Jewellery manufacturers have invested over INR 1000 Crores in refinery activities.. Additionally, we are initiating the Narayanpet Gold Souk, a collaborative space for multiple shops, envisioned as a manufacturing showroom. With over 5,000 outlets and 400 manufacturers in Hyderabad alone, our jewelry industry contributes significantly to employment as well. Events like HJF 2023 will go a long way in contributing towards development of this sector in Telangana.”

Robbery-related violence is on the rise!

Violence during robbery incidents is increasing everywhere, in stores, against sales agents on the roads and at various exhibition events. Recently, a secured courier company employee was murdered, a jeweler was murdered in Houston, and others were injured in various robbery incidents.

Violent events typically happen in two situations. One, where unskilled robbers use violence in the very early stages of the incident. And two, when robbers lose their temper and the incident ends with severe violence, due to individuals' defensive behavior in an attempt to fight over the goods and save them from being robbed.

We remind and recommend that robbers' instructions must be obeyed. No matter where an attack occurs - on the road, in the store or at offices. The merchant's role is to prevent the robbery, to detect tale signs of a coming attack, to understand at an early stage that an attack is about to take place, and in general - to always follow the rules of preventive behavior.

Nevertheless, if a robbery occurs, you should not try to prevent it; you should not try to resist; you should not try to "defeat" the robbers. Behave as calmly as possible and follow the instructions given by the attackers - any attempt to fight back may make the incident more violent.

Trade opposes XRF hallmarking with destructive sampling

BIS has published in their website a proposal (Mtd 10 -22458, WC May 2023) for XRF based hallmarking with destructive sampling and melting . Comments if any, need to be forwarded to BIS before 15 June 2023. Hallmarking Federation of India has urged jewellery trade to communicate to BIS that goes against this demand of the trade.

At the various meetings with the Consumer Affairs Ministry and Director General, BIS, trade associations have demanded XRF based hallmarking, without any sampling and melting, for smaller lots up to 10 pieces and single piece order items. The above proposal of BIS with destructive sampling for XRF based hallmarking, goes against this demand of the trade.

X-Ray Fluorescence Machine is used in testing the jewellery and artefacts quickly. The XRF machine helps in identifying the BIS prohibited elements in the jewellery like Cadmium, Ruthenium, Iridium, Osmium, etc. It is the principle and fundamental process of an Assay and Hallmarking Centre.

Gemfields emerald auction nets US $43.7m

Gemfields say it set a record with sales totaling $43.7m from its Kagem mine, in Zambia. The UK-based colored gems miner says it sold all 35 lots offered, comprising 264,000 carats of higher quality rough, at a series of five auctions, with viewings in Bangkok and bids made online by sealed bids.

The June auctions were the highest grossing since the Kagem mine opened in 2009 and narrowly beat the $43.3m sold in May 2022. Average realized price per carat was $165.55, an all-time record for any Gemfields emerald auction.

The sale also represents a revenue increase of over 40 per cent on the company's last auction, in November 2022. "In our last auction we saw the market normalise appreciably when compared with the exuberance of the first half of 2022," said Adrian Banks, Gemfields' managing director of product and sales. "We are delighted today to see the market rebound sharply once again, underpinning the step-change in market pricing which we reported in 2022."

100 Lab-Grown Diamond players at JCK 2023

This year the number of LGD producers showing, along with companies that make lab-grown diamond jewels, amounts to 100. "This area of JCK continues to grow larger with each passing year," Sarin Bachmann, Group Vice President -RX jewelry portfolio notes.

LGDs are increasingly big business. Based on data compiled by Tenoris, which produces trend analytic reports for the global jewelry industry, in the past three years, the market share of lab-grown diamond sales doubled from an average of 8.3% in 2020 to 17.3% in 2022. What's more, the share of loose lab-grown diamonds tripled from 7.2% in January 2020 to 22.9% in February 2023.

More data pointing to lab-grown diamond's ascendancy: loose lab-grown diamond unit sales held a share of 13.7% in 2020.

Since then, their share nearly tripled to 33.8% in 2022. In February 2023, unit sales of lab-grown diamonds reached the 46.6% mark. Clearly, the LGD realm is doing more than merely disrupting the jewelry industry—it is challenging the traditional notion of how consumers define what a diamond is.

Botswana “Confident” over De Beers Deal

Botswana remains “confident” of reaching a new sales agreement with De Beers, despite repeated threats by President Mokgweetsi Masisi to walk away from negotiations.

Government spokesperson William Sentshebeng said last week that talks were “ongoing, and we are confident that they will result in a deal that will benefit both parties”.

Botswana is seeking an increase its share of the rough output from the Debswana joint venture. It currently receives 25 per cent, but is reportedly keen to double that share to 50 per cent.

Sentshebeng said the government’s purchase of a 24 per cent stake in the Belgian manufacturer HB Antwerp would not impact its partnership with De Beers.

Under the original De Beers deal, signed in 1969, the government sold only 10 per cent of the rough diamonds.

In 2020 the split was adjusted so the state-owned Okavango Diamond Company (ODC), established in 2011, now gets 25 per cent.

Selfridges selling LGDs at its Oxford Street store

Selfridges is selling lab grown diamonds at its flagship Oxford Street department store, in London, in a high-profile endorsement for the sector. Selfridges has struck a deal with The Diamond Lab that will mean it becomes the very first lab-grown diamond brand to appear in the Selfridges Wonder Room.

It follows Selfridges earlier this year adding pieces from lab-grown diamond jewellery brand Vrai to its offer online.

But a presence in the ultra-valuable space in-store is a much bigger endorsement of lab-grown gems targeting the luxury shopper rather than shoppers simply looking for cheaper options.

The Diamond Lab say it has 40 styles on offer and more than 1, 000 loose stones, including an exclusive-to-Selfridges yellow diamond set in bracelets, necklaces and anklets.

Sanctions on Russia was hot topic at JCK 2023

Another diamond-related subject on the minds of many JCK attendees: possible sanctions on Russia. Though the recent G7 summit did not come out with an expected ban on Russian polished gems, participants in JCK's "Natural Diamond Updates" panel warned show attendees to expect sanctions.

Tiffany Stevens, president and CEO of the Jewelers Vigilance Committee, explained that the traditional way U.S. sanctions work is they start small, then "ratchet up."

All of this has meant improved provenance tracking. "Knowing where a diamond comes from has become increasingly important," said De Beers CEO Al Cook at a ceremony opening his company's booth, which was touting the company's Code of Origin services.

He added that De Beers, like the rest of the industry, has become more committed to sustainability—right down to the decor at its Vegas booth. "Even the plants will be replanted and donated to local organizations."

Jaishankar meets Indian diamond businessmen in Namibia

India's External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar met Indian diamond businessmen from Gujarat in Namibia on Monday and lauded their contribution to the local economy, saying that they are advancing the country's economic interests while building real friendships.

Jaishankar arrived in the capital city of Namibia after concluding the BRICS Foreign Minister's Summit in South Africa.

"Good to see Indian diamond businesses from Gujarat active in Namibia. They are advancing our economic interests while building real friendships. The Namibian Government is appreciative of their contribution to the local economy,"
